Expedition Route

Hungary · Central Budapest · 3 days

DAY 1
Pest · Parliament · Jewish Quarter

DAY 2
Buda · Castle District · Fisherman's Bastion

DAY 3
City Park · Széchenyi Baths · Heroes' Square

JOURNEY HIGHLIGHTS

- The Hungarian Parliament from the Danube at dusk — arguably Europe's finest riverside building
- Széchenyi thermal baths on a cold morning: the Budapest ritual
- The Central Market Hall for paprika, pálinka and everything in between
- Fisherman's Bastion at dawn, before the tour groups arrive
- Ruin bars in the old Jewish Quarter after midnight
- Heroes' Square and Vajdahunyad Castle in the late afternoon light

DAY 1

Pest — Parliament, the Danube Promenade & the Jewish Quarter

Begin on the Pest side. Walk the Danube promenade to the Hungarian Parliament — the building is best seen from the water at the golden hour. Visit St Stephen's Basilica and climb the dome. Afternoon at the Central Market Hall: three floors of produce, paprika and craft stalls. Evening in the old Jewish Quarter: ruin bars, kosher restaurants and the Dohány Street Synagogue by night.

- Hungarian Parliament — the neo-Gothic masterpiece on the Danube, completed in 1904
- St Stephen's Basilica — the city's largest church and its most important dome
- Central Market Hall — Budapest's finest covered market, dating from 1897
- Dohány Street Synagogue — the largest synagogue in Europe

INSIDER TIP

The Hungarian Parliament's interior is accessible only on a guided tour — book online in advance, as walk-up availability is limited in summer. It is best photographed from the Batthyány tér metro stop across the Danube at dusk. Szimpla Kert opens its Sunday flea market at 9am — it is calmer and more interesting than the evening crowd.

DAY 2

Buda — Fisherman's Bastion, Matthias Church & the Castle District

Cross to Buda on foot via the Chain Bridge at first light. The Castle District is best before nine: Fisherman's Bastion without the crowds, the Neo-Gothic spires of Matthias Church in the morning quiet. Walk the castle walls for views across the Danube. Afternoon at the Hungarian National Museum and the Hungarian State Opera. Return to Pest for dinner.

- Fisherman's Bastion — the neo-Romanesque terrace with the city's finest panoramic view
- Matthias Church — the Gothic church that has witnessed eight centuries of Hungarian history
- Chain Bridge — the first permanent bridge to connect Buda and Pest, opened in 1849
- Hungarian State Opera — one of the most ornate opera houses in Europe

INSIDER TIP

Cross to Buda on foot via the Chain Bridge — the walk gives you the finest view of the Parliament. Fisherman's Bastion charges an entry fee to the upper terraces after 9am; arrive before then and it is free and empty. Matthias Church has its own admission; the interior is spectacular and undervisited.

DAY 3

City Park — Széchenyi Baths, Heroes' Square & Vajdahunyad Castle

A final morning at Széchenyi thermal baths: the yellow neo-baroque building, the outdoor pools, the chess players in the water. Walk across City Park to Heroes' Square — the millennium monument and its seven chieftains. Vajdahunyad Castle sits behind it, an improbable Gothic-Romanesque-Baroque structure that somehow works. Afternoon free for the Hungarian National Museum or a final walk along the Danube.

- Széchenyi Thermal Baths — the largest medicinal bath complex in Europe
- Heroes' Square — the iconic millennium monument at the entrance to City Park
- Vajdahunyad Castle — a fairy-tale complex representing Hungarian architectural history
- Hungarian National Museum — the country's history from the Roman occupation to the present

INSIDER TIP

Széchenyi opens at 6am — this is the correct time to arrive. The outdoor pool chess players are regulars, not a tourist display. The baths are partially segregated; the main outdoor pools are mixed. Heroes' Square is busiest between 10am and 4pm; early morning or evening visits are dramatically quieter.
